Strengthening APAD to end girl child marriage and abuse

With the support of the CSF grant, the project aims to strengthen APAD's advocacy, financial, and human resource management skills, to effectively advocate against early child marriage through community mobilisation, sensitisation, and awareness campaigns including training for community stakeholders.

Project results:

Supporting community to identify and find solutions to problems that affect them the most

Key activities include:

- Training of 15 APAD employees to build their skills in advocacy and lobbying
- Training of 14 employees on financial, logistics, and human resource management
- Organising stakeholder meetings, peer support groups, teacher and student-led community awareness campaigns, and radio talk shows to stop early marriage and childbirth practices
