Organisational capacity building to effectively engage with local authorities

With the support of the CSF grant, the project aims to strengthen lobbying and advocacy activities to positively engage with local decision makers and actively participate in policymaking processes; form partnerships with other actors and humanitarian partners to work on issues prioritised by the communities.

Project results:

Finding solutions to the community's most pressing needs

Key activities include:

- HUMAES staff trained on creating advocacy and communication plans
- Training of staff on financial management
- Round table meetings and discussions with local stakeholders and decision makers on protecting the rights of widows and orphans to access and be able to register land ownership
